Video Music Hall

Video Music Hall is a new TV show inspired by downtownTV.com's original live performance videos and original puppet music videos with leading independent artists including Stephin Merritt of the Magnetic Fields, Amanda Palmer of the Dresden Dolls, Devendra Banhart, Adam Green of the Moldy Peaches, Jenny Lewis of Rilo Kiley, Andrew W.K., Bunny Sigler, Billy Squier, Debbie Harry and Leonard Cohen amongst others.

Globally and downtownTV.com-filtered original music videos from viewers around the world, new and exclusive live performance videos by Video Music Hall's favorite artists and downtownTV.com's cohorts' personal music video pix will all be part of Video Music Hall's video wonder world.

With a visual picture frame and transitions both subtle and bold that draw upon classic and modern music hall imagery, the show will be a unique and artful composition of iconic music video moments, downtown jams, rare and special interactions between current stars and their musical influences, underexposed treats and exclusive footage from viewers, artists, videographers and creative conglomerates – all acknowledging the magic of music video in its own original music hall presentation.

All compèred by the downtownTV.com denizens, hosts and cast of characters including Liam McMullan, Shaggy, Crosby, Miz Metro, Pattydukes, Rephstar, Edgar Oliver, Carlton DeWoody, Tyler Burba, Cheroc Sebti, Robbie Lee, celebrity guest co-hosts and the off-screen voice of the Video Music Hall's eccentric never seen owner.

Video Music Hall is conceived and produced by Steve Paul, creator and executive producer of downtownTV.com. He is a Tony-nominated producer whose shows have been produced in cellars and penthouses, on Broadway and at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C. He has created and produced television shows for public access, national syndication and HBO with guests including Aretha Franklin, Moby Grape, The Staple Singers and Lyle Lovett. His management and record companies produced Grammy Award winning records for Muddy Waters as well as number one triple-platinum rock and roll albums and sold out arena shows across the country. His legendary club, Steve Paul's The Scene, was known for its jam sessions including the night when Jim Morrison, Janis Joplin and Jimi Hendrix jammed together.
